THE FOSSIL RAINDROPS.

Over the quarry the children were rambling, Hunting for stones to skip,
Into the cliffs and the crevices scrambling, Searching the quarrymen's chup.
Sweet were their voices and gay was their laughter That holiday afternoon, One tumbled down and the rest tumbled after,
All of them singing one tune.
Here was a stone would skip like a bubble, Once were it loosed from its place, See what strange lines, all afloat, all a-tumble, Covered over its face.
Half for a moment their wonder is smitten, Nor divine they at all That soft earth it was when those last lines were written.
By the rain's gusty fall.
Nor guess they, while pausing to look at it plainly,
The least in the world perplexed,
That the page which old Merlin studied vainly Had never such weird text.
Only a stone o'er the placid pool throwing, Ah — But it told them, though,
How the rain was falling, the wind was blowing.
Ten thousand years ago!
—Harriet Prescott Spofford in St. Nicholas.

EASTERN BRIDALS.

Traces of Primitive Practices to Be Found in the Modern Marriage Service.
All nations originally captured their brides, and ancient times in Blackwood's Magazine gives us some interesting particulars. Traces of this primitive practice survive even in our civilized and complex marriage service. The bridegroom takes his best man, the strongest and most daring among his associates, and goes to carry off his bride in defiance of her protecting bridesmaids, who in their degenerate days exhaust their energies by hurling satin shoes, rice, etc., at the retreating, but triumphant, bridegroom.
Lo! how the woman once was wooed!
Forth leaped the savage from his lair.
He told her, and to nuptials rode.
He dragged her bleeding by the hair.
Among the tribes of Western China the brutal savagery of the first assault has disappeared. Among the Lolos in Western China, the bride, on her wedding morning, perches herself on the topmost branch of a large tree, while the elder female members of the family cluster on the lower limbs, armed with sticks. The bridegroom then climbs up the tree, and after a struggle by blows, pushes and punches from the dowagers, and it is not until he has broken through the defense, and captured the prize, that he is allowed to carry off his bride. For several days before the wedding the Chinese bride and her companions utter doleful cries and lamentations, in anticipation of the dreadful fate awaiting her, but What she thinks, from what she'll say.
Lies far as Scotland from Cathay.
On the marriage morn no traces of grief disfigure the fair bride; and as soon as the best man is announced a large, red silk wrapper is thrown over the bride's head and face; thus veiled, she is conducted by the best man to the sedan chair in waiting. Accompanied by music, forerunners and flowers, she is carried to the door of her new home. As the chair stops the bridegroom comes out and the door is opened by a bridesmaid, who help the bride to enter.
She is not, however, allowed to enter the house in the ordinary way, but is across the threshold on the back of a mat and over a charcoal fire. What is the meaning of lifting the bride over charcoal fire would be hard to determine. It has been suggested that it may be an act of purification or the fire may simply have been originally intended to act as a barrier against the evil spirits, prevent the possibility of escape or part of the bride. Having once been deposited in the reception hall, the bridegroom kneels before her husband and submits to have the red veil lifted by lord with a fan.
Probably Angels' Tears.
The latest meteor story is one that legged to have fallen near Kiev, Russia, which, when broken open, is said to have been found full of small diamonds.

THE CANADIAN TYPE.

Charles Dudley Warner Says It Is Neither English Nor American.
I had been told that the Canadians are second-hand Englishmen, writes Charles Dudley Warner in Harper's Magazine. No estimate could convey a more erroneous impression. A portion of the people have strong English traditions and loyalties to institutions, but in manner and in expectations the Canadians are scarcely more English than the people of the United States; they have their own colonial development, and one can mark already with tolerable distinctness a Canadian type which is neither English nor American. This is noticeable especially in the women. The Canadian girl resembles the American in escape from a purely conventional restraint and in self-reliance, and she has, like the English, a well-modulated voice and distinct articulation. In the cities, also, she has taste in dress and a certain style which we think belongs to the New World. In features and action a certain modification has gone on, due partly to climate and partly to greater social independence. It is unnecessary to make comparisons, and I only note that there is a Canadian type of woman.
But there is great variety in Canada, and in fact a remarkable racial diversity. The man of Nova Scotia is not at all the man of British Columbia or Manitoba. The Scotch in old Canada have made a distinct impression in features and speech. And it may be said generally in Eastern Canada that the Scotch is a leading and conspicuous one in the vigor and push of enterprise and the accumulation of fortune. The Canadian men, as one sees them in official life, at the clubs, in business, are markedly a vigorous, stalwart race, well made, of good stature, and not seldom handsome. This physical prosperity needs to be remembered when we consider the rigorous climate and the long winters; these seem to have at least one advantage —that of breeding virile men. The Canadians generally are fond of out-door sports and athletic games, of fishing and hunting, and they give more time to such recreations than we do. They are a little less driven by the business god. Abundant animal spirits tend to make men cool-headed and little quarrelsome. The Canadians would make good soldiers. There was a time when the drinking habit pre-valled very much in Canada, and there are still places where they do not put water enough in their grog, but temperance reform has taken as strong a hold there as it has in the United States.
The feeling about the English is illustrated by the statement that there is not any saving of English ways in Montreal and Toronto clubs and social life than in New York, and that the English superciliousness, or condescension as to colonists, the ultra-English manner, is ridiculed in Canada, and resented by even more warmth than in the United States. The amusing stories of English presumption upon hospitality are current in Canada as well as on this side. All this is not inconsistent with pride in the empire, loyalty to its traditions and institutions, and even a considerable willingness (for human nature is pretty much alike everywhere) to accept decorative titles. But the underlying fact is that there is a distinct feeling of nationalism, and it is increasing.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

In another column will be found an ordinance in which the property holders have a direct interest. On the petition of many of the leading citizens the Commissioners assumed the power and, at the cost of about $20,000, sewered the most thickly settled portion of the town. Residents were slow to avail themselves of the advantages and the protection to health which would follow the utilizing of the much needed highways for relieving the town from the accumulation of filth that was, and is, poisoning the water of the wells, through which, and in other ways, more or less sickness has been caused. A leading physician of San Francisco recently asserted that more than 90 per cent. of typhoid fevers were caused by the use of impure water and the lack of proper drainage. The action of the Commissioners looking toward enforced drainage will be commended by all well and intelligent thinking people. None but wanton ones will hesitate for a moment to carry out its provisions. All are taxed alike for the work done, which, if not used, is money thrown away. All who value their health, lives and the good reputation of the town for health will not wait for the notice of the Chief of Police, will not stand on the order of their doing, but will seek to comply with the provisions of the ordinance in the most practical way and as soon as possible.

THE President has done a wise act in appointing Hon. S. C. Wright Superintendent of the Mint. Mr. Wright is a man of many sterling qualities, and his appointment will give excellent satisfaction to the party.

EUGENE GREGORY, Mayor of Sacramento, a Native Son and an able scholar, is now regarded in the lead among the Republicans who are seeking the nomination for Governor of California.

It occurs to us that the policy of the Inyo county, Cal., people in boycotting the C. & C. road and Nevada people generally will be likely to prove a boomerang.

Taken Under Adversment.
WASHINGTON, May 11.—Assistant Secretary Chandler of the Interior Department, and Assistant Attorney General Shields to-day heard argument on a motion to review a decision of the Department rendered on March 18th by which it was held that the mining lode at Helena, Montana, should be awarded to the Elkhorn Mining Company. The case was taken under adversment.

The Kempton Park Royal stakes of 10,000 sovereigns was won by the Duke of Portland's colt Ayrshire, Lord Calthorpe's filly Seabreeze second, and the Duke of Portland's colt Melior third. There were seven starters.

Will Not be the Last.
LONDON, May 11.—In an interview Boulanger said if the French government is to prolong the sitting of the Chamber of Deputies until next year, its action would be equivalent to a coup d'etat against universal suffrage, and it would be the duty of every citizen to rise in opposition. He declares he would not be the last man to rise in case such action was taken.

Bank Statement.
NEW YORK, May 11.—The weekly bank statement shows the following changes: Reserve decrease $675,000, special decrease $3,204,900. The banks now hold $8,972,575 in excess of the 25 per cent. rules.

A Terrible Storm.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 11.—Reports of the damage done by last night's terrible storm are coming in from all parts of Allegheny county, and from nearly every place in Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania. The loss cannot be approximated. Farms were washed out and houses, fences and trees along the banks of streams were washed away. Land-slides occurred on nearly every road leading out of Pittsburgh. So far, but two deaths are reported from drowning. Two children of Conrad Schaefer, aged three and seven, of Spring Gardenborough, north of Allegheny, were swept away by the floods, and Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer barely escaped the same fate. Mrs. Schaefer is so prostrated it is believed she cannot recover.

This morning East street and Madison Avenue in Butcher's Run were destroyed, while numerous cross streets are completely filled with debris. Cars were lying on the tracks completely hemmed in by planking and rubbish. A large number of butchers' houses were ruined and the stocks of meats were ruined and destroyed. Louis Zoller's case was but one of many. This morning they are splashing around knee deep in mud and water trying to save some of their meats. The same tale of terror comes from Sawmill Run, Woods Run, Charters Valley, West End, South Side, Pleasant Valley and Lawrenceville districts. The lightning played havoc all night long. Barns and stock were destroyed and telephone and telegraph wires were damaged through a large section of country. Three inches of rain fell and the Ohio river rose three feet in as many hours.

The bodies of two men, victims of last night's flood, were found this morning, making four deaths so far reported. Their names are John Dougherty and John Cochran. The loss in this vicinity will be at least half a million.

The Grain Crop.
WASHINGTON, May 11.—The condition of winter wheat has advanced from 94 to 96; of rye, from 93.9 to 96.9. The general average of winter barley is 90.9. The winter wheat of the Ohio valley, while fully maintaining its April position, has had a scant supply of moisture, and fears of a future decline of the condition is entertained in case of a continued deficiency of the rain fall. On the Atlantic slope, the recent heavy rain obviated the effects of the previous deficiency. A high condition is reported in the South, though rust appeared upon the wheat blades in some fields. The percentage of the condition of the States of the principal production are: Ohio, 90; Michigan, 92; Indiana, 95; Illinois, 98; Missouri, 98; Kansas, 98; Texas, 98. In East New York and Pennsylvania the average is 96, and Maryland and Virginia 98. Clinch bugs are reported in Missouri and Kansas, and in some instances elsewhere, without any indication of serious injury. Spring plowing is much further advanced than on May 1st of last year.

Not Thought to be Lost.
WASHINGTON, May 11.—The officers at the Navy department absolutely discredit the report that the Palos has been lost on the Chinese station. It appears but eight days had elapsed between the date of the last official report, April 16th, and the sailing of the steamer bringing the report of her loss. It is a period hardly long enough to admit of the Palos having been relieved by one of the vessels at a distant northern port, and being out at sea for a time sufficient to justify the apprehension of her loss. The Palos is a gunboat of 420 tons.

A Mine Explosion.
PITTSBURG, Pa., May 11.—An explosion of fire-damp occurred in the Toms Run coal mines this morning, killing four Hungarians. The mines had been closed for some time and gas had accumulated in the deserted apartments. This morning four miners entered the pit to get the tools. They carried lamps, and had hardly gotten well into the mine when the explosion followed. The miners were horribly mangled, and the damage to the mine is very heavy.

Interesting Discussion—An Old Feud.
CHICAGO, May 11.—Rev. Dr. Driver, of Portland, Oregon, and Charles Watts, editor of the Secular Thought are engaged in a series of interesting discussions in this city. Dr. Driver is championing the cause of Christianity and Watts that of agnosticism.

Patrick Ford, aged 60, who, three months ago, married a woman aged 23 years, but who has been separated from her some time, went to the house where she was stopping this morning and shot and killed her, and then fatally shot himself.

An Ordinance pertaining to sewerage in the town of Reno.

[Adopted May 8th, 1889.]

BY VIRTUE OF THE POWER AND AUTHORITY conferred by the laws of the State of Nevada, the Board of County Commissioners do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That no person shall construct or maintain or suffer to be or remain upon his premises, or premises under his control, any privy or privy vault, cesspool, sink or drain, without connecting the same by means of iron-pipe, vitrified earthen or iron pipe, with the street or alley sewer in such manner that it shall be effectively drained and purified, if there be a sewer in the street or alley on which said premises may now be or hereafter be situated, with which the same can be connected. Every drain or branch sewer hereafter constructed which shall connect with a dwelling or building, or with a privy, privy vault or cesspool, shall be provided with some apparatus or means by which such drain or branch sewer may be effectively flushed and cleaned; and, also, shall be provided with a trap or apparatus which will practically prevent the escape of gases from the sewer into such dwelling house, building, privy, privy vault or cesspool, which trap or apparatus shall be so constructed that it can be readily and conveniently examined and inspected.

Section 2. That it is hereby made the duty of all persons who are required to connect with the sewers as provided in the foregoing section to do so within thirty days after having received a written or printed notice from the Chief of Police or any legally constituted police officer, whose duty it shall be, to serve said notice as soon as practical hereafter upon all persons owning or controlling property adjoining or abutting any street or alley through which sewers are now or may hereafter be laid; and should any such person or persons fail to make the connection within the said time, or in the manner prescribed, or otherwise violate the provisions of the said section, he or she, or they, shall be deemed guilty of a nuisance, and, on conviction thereof, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Dollars, or imprisonment in the County Jail any time not exceeding Sixty Days, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 3. All ordinances and parts of ordinance in conflict with this are hereby repealed.

THE CRONIN MYSTERY.

CHICAGO, May 11.—It has been discovered that the woman whose body was taken to Union Park at the time of Dr. Cronin's disappearance was not that of Alice Villavors, who is still alive, thus adding another mystery. The police are dragging the ponds in the park, but the mutilated remains have not been recovered. A dispatch from Toronto says when Cronin was discovered there he tried to deny his identity, but subsequently admitted it, and said he had to leave Chicago to avoid being killed for his discovery about the land league fund. He soon after took the train, presumably for New York.

The Charleston's Trial Trip.

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.

SANTA BARBARA, May 11.—The Charleston left port at seven o'clock this morning for Point Mugu, below Ventura, from where she will make her four-hour run to Compton. If the test proves satisfactory the cruiser will proceed at once to San Francisco, where the result of the trip will first be made known. The morning is foggy and the run cannot be witnessed from the shore.

The conductor of a Los Angeles train reports that the Charleston passed Ventura about 10:30 o'clock, headed south and going at a rapid rate of speed.

The San Francisco Walkers.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—At 9 o'clock the score was as follows: Albert 183 miles, Guerrero 159, Hart 167, Howarth 145, Peterson 138, Klatt 138 and Campana 135.

Section 3. All ordinances and parts of ordinance in conflict with this are hereby repealed.

THE CRONIN MYSTERY.

CHICAGO, May 11.—It has been discovered that the woman whose body was taken to Union Park at the time of Dr. Cronin's disappearance was not that of Alice Villavors, who is still alive, thus adding another mystery. The police are dragging the ponds in the park, but the mutilated remains have not been recovered. A dispatch from Toronto says when Cronin was discovered there he tried to deny his identity, but subsequently admitted it, and said he had to leave Chicago to avoid being killed for his discovery about the land league fund. He soon after took the train, presumably for New York.

The Charleston's Trial Trip.

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.

SANTA BARBARA, May 11.—The Charleston left port at seven o'clock this morning for Point Mugu, below Ventura, from where she will make her four-hour run to Compton. If the test proves satisfactory the cruiser will proceed at once to San Francisco, where the result of the trip will first be made known. The morning is foggy and the run cannot be witnessed from the shore.

The conductor of a Los Angeles train reports that the Charleston passed Ventura about 10:30 o'clock, headed south and going at a rapid rate of speed.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

To Organize.

Reno baseballists are about to organize into a club, get uniforms and put their best foot forward to carry off the pennant. They will soon give the Truckee boys a tussle, and later on will probably send greeting to Carson or Virginia City. Those interested will please be present at the meeting to-night, at the GAZETTE office, at 7 o'clock.

Andrew Ransom, agent for the San Francisco Monitor is in town to-day.

An Expression of Delight.

"About a week ago," says a Los Angeles, Cal., druggist, "a Chinaman came in with a lame shoulder. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and guaranteed that it would cure him. He came in again last night, and as soon as he got inside the door began to swing his arms over his head like an Indian club swinger. I thought the blamed fool had a fit, but he finally stopped long enough to say: 'Medicine very fine, very fine; all the same make me feel plenty good.' Chamberlain's Pain Balm is without an equal for sprains, rheumatism, aches, pains or lame back. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's Life Pills, Bucklin's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merit. A. J. Hodgkinson druggist.

SHOOTING CONTEST.

The Coming Cincinnati-Carson Match.

The Carson Appeal says: A series of three matches has been arranged between the Cincinnati Rifle Association of Cincinnati, Ohio, and the Carson Guard. The conditions are, fifteen men from each organization, ten shots each, on the standard American or ring target, 200 yards, no previous practice and no sighting shots allowed. As the Cincinnati club uses the match rifles, with peep and globe sights, and three pound pull of trigger, while the Carson Guards confine themselves strictly to the State arm, the Springfield musket, they allow our team seven points on each score of ten shots, or 105 points on the match. The men who will strive to uphold the reputation of our local company in the first match, which will take place day after to-morrow, will be selected from the following members, who have shown quite an interest in practice, and are already quite proficient with the Springfield: Alley, Hark, Holbrook, Wilcox, Little, McCulloch, Cowing, Saffell, Galusha, Thaxter, Parkinson, Dorsey, McInnis, Folsom and Gordon.

"Just let your sheep run in the orchard till you get through," it is said that the herder saw the joke and immediately moved his flock.

The Dog Show.

The entertainment given this afternoon was worth double the price charged for admission. It is perfectly wonderful to see his dogs, 30 in number, perform the difficult tricks they do. SELLS BROTHERS.

Something About the Circus and Menagerie.

If any doubt exists regarding the truth of the rumor that two shows intend visiting Reno this year, it must give way now. Sells Brothers' enormous hippodrome, three ring circus, elevated stage and five continent menagerie, than which no finer exists, will positively visit here on Tuesday, May 21st. S. H. Barrett's World's Fair, an unexcelled congress of circus celebrities, museum marvels, menagerie excerpts and racing carnival will also pitch its city of snow white tents here on the same date. These two shows have visited here before separately in different seasons, and this year they come as one—giving two parades the same day, and two complete shows for but one price of admission. This will insure tremendous crowds. We know them both to be meritorious, and how often two such shows can pay candidly is past our comprehension. Either one heretofore was as large as any that ever visited us, and the two combined will make such an exhibition as is seen but once in a lifetime. The combine of the parade will be a novelty. The audience will be divided into four divisions, each division preceded by a brass band. The cages and chariots of one show are dissimilar to those of the other. The color of the cages and wardrobe is entirely different, so that the distinguishing character of each show is retained, the better to allow of a comparison of the merits of the respective shows.

The Pinta Rain Dance.

Johnson Sides explained to the Carson Appeal how the big rain happened. He said that the Pintes had a rain dance, and he had danced enough he sent a messenger to stop the performance. The messenger got tight at Wadsworth and never reached the dance. As a consequence the rain came down in large quantities than they expected. He says the thing will not happen again if he can prevent it.

Heavy Mail-Boxes.

Mail-boxes so large that six of them weighed a pound are said to have fallen at Placerville, Cal., last Wednesday. Fowls struck by them were killed, and livestock were driven almost frantic. Fruit trees were not only stripped of their fruit, but their foliage as well, and other trees suffered severely. It was the heaviest hail-storm yet known in that region.

Badly Broken Up.

Robert Brown, employed on J. R. Williams' ranch about twelve miles from Sacramento, on the Auburn road, fell from a scaffolding last Thursday and had both legs broken.

Agency is Court.

By persons who, attacked by a mild form of rheumatism, neglect to seek prompt relief. Subsequent torture is prevented by an immediate resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Slight exposure, an occasional draught, will begot this painful malady, where there is a predisposition to it in the blood. It is not difficult to arrest the trouble at the outset, but well nigh impossible to eradicate it when matured. No evidence in relation to this superb blood purifier is more positive than that which establishes its efficacy as a preventive and remedy for rheumatism. Not only is it thorough, but safe, which the vegetable and mineral poisons, often taken as cures of the disease, are not. Besides expelling the rheumatic virus from the system, it cures fever and ague, biliousness, constipation and dyspepsia.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve.

Figures Out Her Age.

Girls of a marriageable age do not like to tell how old they are, but the Reading Telegram says you can find out by following the subjoined instructions, the young lady doing the figuring: Tell her to put down the number of the month in which she was born, and then to multiply it by 2, then to add 5, then to multiply it by 10, then to add her age, then to subtract 365, then to add 115, then tell her to tell you the amount she has left. The two figures to the right will tell you her age, and the remainder the month of her birth. For example, the amount is 822, she is 22 years old, and was born in the eighth month (August). Try it.

"His pills as thick as hand-grenades flew. And where they fell, I certainly they flew was said of one of those ignorant doctors in the early times, who might well be called the aid-de-camp of death. The sufferer from scurvy, with sores as bad as Job's, need not now curse the day he was born, for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will restore health and beauty, appetite and strength. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing salt-rheum, tetter, boils, carbuncles, sore eyes, scrofulous sores and swellings, hip-joint disease, white swellings, goitre, or thick neck, and enlarged glands.

In Three Days.

Three days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism, but it can be done, if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen by the following from James Lambert of New Brunswick, Ill.: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right to-day, and I would urge on everyone who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

O, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning. The signal percepts of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourself if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cents, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shilo's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup and Whooping Cough at once. Mothers do not be without it. For Lane Back, Side or Chest, use Shilo's Porous Plaster. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker.

It was maintained by the late Horace Greeley, that "nothing succeeds like success." If this be true, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will always be popular, as it is never fails. It is indicated especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is undoubtedly the best and most reliable medicine in use for those diseases. It is a decidedly a success. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 25 cents a bottle. Jydw

It should be generally known that Dr. Henley's Dandelion Tonic insures a hearty appetite and increased digestion, dispels nervous depression and low spirits, overcomes lack of energy and wakefulness, and will infuse new life and strength into the weakest invalid. Sold by William Fininger.

LOST IN THE STORM.

One of our local editors clipped from a leading magazine extracts from a vivid description of a western blizzard which we have taken the liberty to publish and at the same time suggest to H. H. Warner & Co., the proprietors of the celebrated Warner's Safe Cure, the feasibility of taking therefrom an extract for the introduction of one of their telling advertisements. The following is the description:

"At the close of a dark day in January a solitary horseman wends his way across the open prairie in one of our western territories. He passes at long intervals the lone cabin of the hardy frontiersman. Two or three old settlers, of whom he has inquired the way, have warned him that a storm is approaching, and one of them, with true western hospitality, urges him to find shelter in his cabin for the night. But he declines the proffered kindness and urges his horse forward. * * * The sky grows suddenly dark. * * * He decides to seek shelter. * * * The storm increases in its fury. * * * The rider dismounts to warm his fast chilling limbs. Or, scarcely by breathe.
Blindness comes on. Drowsiness steals over him. The end is near.
* * * He is lost in the blizzard."

There is no doubt that the terror which seizes the bewildered traveler is similar to that which overcomes one when he learns that he is suffering from an advanced Kidney Disease, and is informed that he is in the last stages of Bright's Disease.
At first he is informed that he has a slight kidney affection. Later he begins to feel tired. Slight headache. Fickle appetite. Failure of the eye-sight.
Cramp in the calf of the legs. Wake-fulness. Distressing nervousness.
Rheumatic and neuralgic pains. Occasional pain in the back. Scanty, dark colored fluids, with scalding sensations. Gradual failure of strength.

Any of the above symptoms signify Kidney Affection, but he is told that he is all right. His physician treats him for symptoms and calls it a disease, when in reality it is but a symptom of Kidney trouble. He may be treated for Rheumatic or Neuralgic pains, heart affection, or any other disease which he is most susceptible to. Finally the patient has puffing under the eyes, slight bloating of the ankles and legs. His physician may inform him that it is but the accumulation of blood in his ankles for want of proper exercise.

The blist continues and reaches his body. Then he is informed he has dropsical troubles, and is tapped once or twice. He notices it is difficult to breathe owing to irregular action of the heart, and finally is informed that he has a slight attack of Bright's Disease. Soon his friends are notified that his is an advanced case of Bright's Disease, and that he can live but a short time. His honorable and dignified physician asks for counsel.
It is too late. Still he sticks to the old family physician, and the physician knows and has known from the beginning that the patient has been stricken with death for months, for he knows full well that the profession acknowledge they have no remedies for the cure of Kidney Disease.

At last the patient succumbs—is smothered—and dies from dropsical trouble. Or perhaps the disease may not take the form of a dropsical tendency, and the patient dies from apoplexy, paralysis, pneumonia or heart trouble. Or it may take the form of blood poisoning. In each form the end is the same. And yet he and his friends were warned by the proprietors of the celebrated remedy known as Warner's Safe Cure, of the lurking dangers of a slight Kidney affection.

The newspapers have published the dangers. Columns of facts have been printed of men dying from advanced Kidney Disease or Bright's Disease.
His friends and physician look around with horror and regret for seeming neglect, but he is lost. He did not take the warning that a storm was approaching. He declined the proffered hospitality, and recklessly went forward into danger. He struggled manfully for a time, but his strength failed, he grew gradually weaker and he was lost to the world. Not in a blizzard, but from the terrible malady which is almost daily occurring in every community, and which is doctored as a symptom instead of what it is, —a mortal disease unless properly treated.

MAKERS OF MONEY.

The Largest Mint in the World at Birmingham, Eng.
It is by no means generally known that an appreciable proportion of our bronze and silver coins at present in circulation never saw the dies of the Royal mint at Tower hill, but are made in Birmingham, says the Pall Mall Gazette.

Have you never noticed a little letter H on some of the pennies you have had from time to time in your hands? This is the supercription of Messrs. Ralph Heaton & Sons, the proprietors of the Birmingham mint. The grandfathers of the present Ralph Heaton who invented the hot-shot used at the siege of Gibraltar was pointed out by General Elliott as "the man who saved Gibraltar." Money has been made in Birmingham for a long time back. Matthew Boulton issued a large quantity of the old-fashioned copper coinage, and in 1850 the Heatonsons bought the machinery of the Soho works when it was sold. Of course, the machinery which they use at present is essentially modern and of their own construction.
So successful has it been that they have supplied all the new used presses to the royal mint, and have entirely fitted up the brand-new imperial mint there. The mint there was recently gone in for, and as this establishment covers more than six acres of ground, and will contain ninety presses, while our own Tower hill mint can number only sixteen, the importance of the work may be understood. The

As to the coming trade, it may be briefly said that money-making is very much like button making. You prepare your metal and stamp it out and there you are in either case. The chief difference between the two industries appears to be that, while there is a demand for buttons all the year round, coinage necessarily proceeds in a series of "bursts." At the mint the visitor is first shown the stores. In the bronze department there were some twenty tons of copper pennings piled up and about as much metal for alloy, and a good deal of rolled copper. The intrinsic value of coin varies according to the country. Our coinage is about the best. The bronze is formed from a mixture of copper and tin, the latter being about one per cent. of the whole.
The silver contains 925 of silver to 75 of copper.
The copper and silver stores and weighing out departments are kept separately, one metal being weighed out by the other, and it being necessary to be more exact in the case of the bronze than in that of the silver coins. The process through which the metal goes from which bronze coins are struck is simple. First, it is crushed up in crucibles, and is formed into bars by means of the mounds into which it is poured; third, it is rolled; fourth, it is heated to soften it; fifth, it is thrown into cold water, by which means it is prevented from cracking when, sixth, it is again rolled; seventh, the copper strips are dropped into diluted acid baths in order to be cleaned; eighth, they are rolled again. The strips are then taken to the cutting-out machine, in which, the metal being inserted, is formed into the shape of the coin, and is then automatically struck out. In the room where this is done—a peculiar small coin for the East was being out during my visit—there are blanks all about the floor. Tramping over them, the visitor notices a little machine into which two push blanks through a tube as fast as they can crush them in. This apparatus mills the edges of the blanks, and, when they have been milled, they are ready to be struck. The form of the coins is then impressed on them by means of a machine which blanks in air-tight pots and putting the pots into a furnace. On being emptied out of the pots the blanks are black and scaly.
An acid bath and a good rubbing in a revolving barrel full of sawdust and water polishes them, however, and they are then ready to receive the impress of the dies.
The metal which is made into silver coins practically goes through the same process.
In weighing the copper blanks (by the hundreds) more is "lost" than in the case of silver. The annealing to which the coins are subjected is done to make them less brittle, and, therefore, more likely to take the impress of the dies properly. The accuracy of the machinery is maintained by means of a machine which has reached the requisite thinness, one blank is struck from the middle of each silver strip and weighed. The copper strips are judged simply by gauge.

It is much easier to coin silver and copper than gold. A bit of copper or silver will be a few blanks unaccounted for, do not make much difference, but the smallest loss of gold is a more or less serious matter. Even when the commoner metals are being minted the men have to be watched for what is intrusted to them, and they stand on grating that metal may not stick to their boots, and in certain parts of the money factory they are not allowed out from morning till night, their dinners being brought to them.

As has been said, the pieces are not washed singly, but in quantities. The process of impressing the inscription on both sides of the blanks is a superlatively simple one where modern machinery is concerned. A dozen large coining presses, one the biggest in the world, stand together in one room. Each machine is furnished with a brass tube like the mouth of an office-speaking pipe, and into the aperture in question girls simply drop the blanks as quickly as they like. The almost noiseless machine is quite the marvel, and is quietly pushed by it one by one between the obverse and the reverse dies, the dies come together, and the blanks move on and smartly rattle down a tube into a box placed to catch them. The biggest press is entirely powered by steam, and is capable of striking 1,000 coins a minute. The large affairs as the jubilee medals, which are three inches in diameter. When the blanks have been converted into coins by the dies they are, for easier and more certain inspection and for counting, spread out on "counting boards" which have exactly a hundred holes. When finally passed, they are packed into strong boxes or barrels.

Monkeys in a Corn-Field.
In a very interesting article recently published by the Popular Science Monthly on the "Directive Faculty in Brutes," the story of a tribe of monkeys on a field of corn is described. When they get ready to start on their expedition an old monkey, the leader of the tribe, with a staff in his hand, so as to stand upright more easily, marches ahead on two legs, thus being more elevated than the others, so as to see signs of danger more readily. The rest follow him on all fours. The leader advances slowly and cautiously, carefully reconnoitering in all directions till the party arrive at the corn-field. He then assigns the sentinels to their respective posts. All being now in readiness, the rest of the tribe ravage and eat to their heart's content. When they retire each one carries two or three ears of corn along, and from this provision the sentinels are repaid on their arrival at their lair. Here we see ability to rule and a willingness to submit to rule; a thoughtful preparation of means to the end in view and a recognition of the rights of the sentinels to be suitably rewarded at the close of the expedition. Wherein does all this differ from a similar story of a tribe of savage men? The only difference that really exists is in degree; otherwise it is much the same.

WAS BADLY SOLD.

Jim Was a Character Reader, but Finally Got Off His Base.
"Yes, I'm in mourning," said the man, as he carefully removed his hat and gazed at the piece of crape which hid the band. "It's for my brother Jim who was planted about five months ago."

"Sick long?"
"Not a minute."
"Accidentally killed, then?"
"You might call it an accident, but it wasn't. It was a case of misreading human nature."
The man tenderly brushed some dust off the crape, put on his hat, and after getting good and ready started out with:
"Me and Jim had a ranch on the Republican river in Kansas. I didn't amount to much, but Jim was a dandy. He could side up a man as quick as you could halve an apple.
Didn't know what fear was as death. I've put a three-hundred-dollar monument at his grave and you can judge by that he must have been a pretty good man."

"Well, late last fall when we had a stock sale at the ranch a sort of tramp came along and got in Jim's way. Jim run over him and sent him home. The tramp wanted to fight and the boys put Jim up to skew the liver out of him. I'm free to say I didn't like the feller's looks. There was sumthin' back of his every-day look which had a gleam of danger in it. Jim sized him up for a runner and when I said the chap would fight Jim whispered:
"Pete, ye never knew me to be wrong.
I'll skew him till all his hair loosens at the roots."

To make a great spread of it the boys fastened the two together by their arms and gave each a bowie-knife. They thought the tramp would back water when it came to the tying, but he didn't. He was right thar, and didn't even turn pale. It was agreed that the chap should be at the word, and the word was held five minutes to let the tramp wilt. He stood like a rock, and Jim couldn't back, you see, without losing character."

"And they fought?"
"It wasn't much of a fight. Jim was as handy with the knife as any man within a hundred miles, but he stood no show in that rum-puss. The word was given, the tramp made a lightning motion, and the next thing I was Jim dead on the grass, his head cut almost off. Thar wasn't but one lick struck."

"And—what?"
"Nothing much. The tramp ontied hisself and walked off as cool as a bar of ice, and we planted Jim on a knoll back of the main."

HOW TO MAKE MONEY.

Invent Something That People Need, and the Dollars Will Roll In.
"One of the best opportunities for a young fellow to make money quickly in these days," said a self-made millionaire to a New York Tribune reporter recently, "is to rack his brains until he has invented something useful that the public wants." A general impression prevails that it takes a skilled engineer or a man of phenomenal inventive ability to develop any thing useful to manufacturers in this age of machinery. But there is a wide field open to ambitious young men to supply the want of little articles of convenience to housekeepers, shopkeepers, etc., and designers can be had at reasonable rates to execute the idea once it is conceived. American women are so accustomed to getting what they want that any thing which lightens their labors in the household is sure to 'go.' When I was a boy on the farm at home my mother used to make me clean all the dinner knives on Sunday with bath-brick.

Now, suppose this brick into a fine powder without lumps in it used to be the most tedious part of the whole work. The other day I heard of a man who has made a fortune by supplying the trade with powdered bath-brick in neat packages. You know how difficult it is to pick up small coins from a wooden counter. Yet the whole civilized world has grown used to endured it since coins were stamped and counters made, until the other day a young fellow invented a rubber mat, with little bristles of rubber standing up thickly all over it. Coins thrown on the mat are as easily picked up as if they stood on edge.
The public was quick to appreciate it, and the inventor need not work for a living any longer."
